In line with Helapet's continued commitment to education and the development of its staff and customers, we are delighted to announce the creation of a new award in collaboration with the University of Derby.

The first recipient of 'The Helapet Award for Independent Study', was awarded to Sandra Lane who has been studying at the University of Derby on the BTEC Professional Diploma (Aseptic Services) Course. Many congratulations to Sandra, who is a senior pharmacy technician based at the Manchester Royal Infirmary.
